This is an amazing train BUT... many of the included career scenarios are all but impossible to complete unless you want to spend the time saving and reloading all the way from Gretna to Motherwell because in career mode even non EPS speeds will see your score wiped out by penalties and to get round the various bends like Elvanfoot curve etc you have to drop to absurd speeds of 70mph whilst you in a class 86 could go round the same bends considerably faster without incurring one penalty.

Yet saying that, in standard mode, it is still a very sleek, very powerful train, far better in my opinion than the Voyager or 801, a shame the speed set control doesn't auto brake like other ones e.g. class 91, 90 etc does on speed set control but it is a very well modelled, superb crafted train set nevertheless and in other liveries looks gorgeous.

If you are a points and medal zealot like myself then this will frustrate you in career mode but still in other modes it is a pleasure to drive, very predictable and my one hope is that DTG will pay some lurve to this, add more functionality to the train, fix the drive quality issues and bring it into the realm of an updated 2015 ready unit.. If you like old school command & conquer, you're going to love this - it's even better!. stress killer, last achievement almost impossible. (300+ Mice) in a row is a bloody bath mate. Fun game for toddlers and pre schoolers. Super short for those kids with short attention spans. Pretty graphics. 10V10.. Overall a good route and nice to see something set in the 1980's period rather than modern plastic.

Included Class 37 okay though the sounds aren't quite up to Armstrong Powerhouse standards. For those complaining about RETB it has been set up such that you can use the blue light on the stop boards as a "home" signal without going through the token exchange procedure.

Biggest problem for me is this type of route really shows up the limitation of the TS20xx route editor when it comes to applying terrain texture. Far too green in places and the blotting paper effect of the terrain paint tool all too apparent on the hills.

Bought this at full price but on reflection probably should waited for the half price sale.. I beat this game years back only to recently find out it had been removed altogether from steam. For any of you that haven't gotten the chance yet, treat yourself and buy this game!. Can't comment on the game as it crashes about a minute in. Tried some work arounds listed in the forum. They don't work for my system. Developer has known about the crash for almost a year, it seems, with no fix. Don't waste your money if you have a GTX 1080 like myself.. This is one of the best (and not just best "10V10 IGN") games of my life and also one of the most important. I love it just as I love the 40k universe. When I first played it (and I was a young kid) my brain just exploded with awesomness. The stroryline, the gameplay, the races! Everything is so great in this game! Back in those days there was nothing better than crushing the enemies of the Emperor under the boots of the mighty Space Marines!

To be honest - there is no other game that is so close to me - I was growing up with it and now I'm am a great fan of this universe.

Get it, play it and enjoy it. If not - burn you heretical scum!. A great little arcade shooter well worth the asking price. Supercharged Robot Vulkaiser is a short bullet hell shooter that parodies the 70s giant robot anime genre. Vulkaiser only has five levels but it's an addictive game with great presentation and replay value. You take control of the titular Vulkaiser and it's pilot Takuya Akatsuki dodging bullets and blasting waves of enemies as you defend earth from androgynous alien invader General Roz. Vulkaiser can combine with four other vehicles developed by Professor Amamori and piloted by Takuya's allies, each one offering Vulkaiser new attacks, knowing when to choose which unit becomes part of Vulkaiser's strategy as you deal with the varying threats the alien menace poses.

This is a great indy title from Japanese developer Astro Port and at it's budget price can't afford to be missed, arcade gamers and bullet hell fans alike will love it. definitely pick it up.. I liked this game, way better than Kidnapped. The only bad thing are the mouse controls, don't know they are very imprecise.

Simplistic? Yes. Easy to learn controls? Yes. Hard game to figure out? No. Feels like other games? Sure.
Bouncing bewbs? Yes.

Very simple beat the crap out of stuff, go from one end of the map to the other, short little story, unlock outfits, dress up the heroine, (Or undress) One man made, game.

For one guy doing nearly all the work, I am actually impressed, the smoothness of the combat, while simple, is pretty damned amazing. Soundtrack is very JRPG, which I dig. Kind of reminds me of a cross of Godhand and Once Upon a Time. Except Cinderella looks awesome and wrecks hard. Good way to kill some time and not get bored.. Too many bugs.. each day we stray further from god. This game ca be beaten in about an hour. With multiple endings, some fanfare with the beautiful girls, threesomes, splashes of humor here and there, and a killer clown on the loose, i actually found myself enjoying this game most than i initially thought i would. In any case, i suggest buying this game when its on sale or when its included in a steam games bundle.. Want a game where you can spend hours turning the entire world into a monstrous volcano that threatens to bring even the mightiest of graphics cards to its knees? Look no further than Arcane Worlds.

The first thing I noticed was the cheat options. While I lasted at least 20 minutes before succumbing to the temptation, I found that the game is so lacking in features that I had little else left to do besides cheat. Once you give yourself the mana cheat and the ALL SPELLS cheat.... Rapid-fire volcanology awaits! Many other available spells vie for your interest as well, but they all pale in comparison to the mighty volcano spell.

SO... $10 for a quality physics simulator which (I have not yet been able to crash, although I can drop framerate to abysmal levels) where I get to turn the entire world into a volcano over the course of an hour and a half? Count me in!

Players: You are ALREADY getting a quality physics fluids simulator in a procedurally generated (rather small/wrapping) world for just $10. Go for it. This is more entertaining and less buggy than a LOT of other crap out there on Steam (and other ware stores).

To the dev: Well done sir! Now you face the daunting task of adding meaningful gameplay to this fantastic world simulator you have created. I wish you the best of luck and encourage players to follow this game closely as things develop.

1.0.1 Update Now Live!:

Hi everyone.

I have just uploaded the 1.0.1 update. If you don't see this update, right click on the game in your Steam library, choose Properties, select the Local Files tab, and click Verify Integrity of Game Files.

This is a pretty minor update. Here's what's fixed:

- The jump sound no longer plays twice on some machines
- Enemies no longer go invincible if they're killed while walking off screen
- The Cascadia Games logo properly fits ultra wide monitors

If you experience any issues, please let me know in the discussions forum or at support (at) cascadiagames (dot) com!. Update 1.1 -- New Bonus Levels!:

The 1.1 update for Ammo Pigs is here!

This update adds new bonus levels. To play them, simply hit new game and select "Bonus." You will be prompted to enter your email address. If you are a Cascadia Games mailing list member, the levels will unlock. If you're not a member, it subscribes you right there and then unlocks the levels!

I rarely send emails out on the list. I only sent 1 out in all of 2018. :)

Enjoy!
